ADAMS ON THE RAMPAGE. -As soon as Jewett Adams heard of the nomination of Hancock yesterday, he pulled the Capitol flag out of the chest in the Governor's office, and ordered the junitor to hoist it over the dome in honor of the Democratic nominations. As soon as his intentions became known there was a general rush of the Republican officials to the stairway to expestulate on such a rash procedure. As Adams was rushing up the stairs dragging the Rog after him, a voice from the Supreme Judges's chambers shouted :

"Adams, what in thunder's the matter ?" "Hancock has been predominated," he replied, in Pardingtonian accents. "Hurrah, for Hancock

Just then Sessions, a regular tattoed-in-thehide Democrat, rushed out and sent up a yell for the nominee.

"Say, this is a Republican State," called out some parties who rushed out of the "Am't I the Democratic Governor when the regular Republican Governor's away? was the response, as he began to climb up toward the skylight.

There was no gainsaying this fact, and he presently crawled up through the skylight with ! the American flag wrapped around him, and in a few minutes more had it, flung to the breeze.

" I may be the Lieutenant Governor when John Henry's here, but during his sequence from the State I'm boss," was his remark when he got down on the first floor again.

When the flag was unfuried there was great excitementall over town, and it was some hours before people could comprehend why a strong Repartican State should fling a flag from the dome of the Capitol at a Democratic nomination. A tailor who took the measure for a suit of clothes for Mr. Adams said he had grown three inches since the last suit was ARCHERY. - In Virginia City the archery club numbers seventy-five ladies and gentlemen, a I another is about to form. Yet Careon with its green sward and pretty girls, (two things hardly known in Virginia) has no archery club. This is a burning disgrace to the city, and the young ladies who spend their time ambling about the city showing off their clothes, and mauling pianos should form an archery club and take a little healthful exercise at the targets. The city presents so many facilities for this sport that it is a great shame not to have them utilized. For the archery contest at the school picnic next Saturday some fine prizes have been offered by Messrs. James, Otey and the school principale. Prizes for target shooting and base ball are also to be given.

GRATUITOUS ADVERTISING .- The APPEAL office is the only newspaper in Carson which as a job office attached. We make this an neuncement for the benefit of parties whe come te us for free puffs and send abroad for their withting with the idea doubtless that It not get it done here. Now that t' impression is corrected, there will be no further misunderstanding, and no one will be so thoughtless as to step in and ask the APPEAL to go to an expense of five or ten dollars, publishing free notices when outsiders get the profits. Certainly no one would think of doing such a thing if they really knew what they were asking.

THE SCHOOL PICNIC. - About two thousand children will be down at Treadway's ranch tomorrow enjoying the novelties of green grass and leafy shade. They will hear the birds sing, tear their clothes, lave their bare feet in the babbling brook and go home with the stomach ache; but all in all they will have a happy time and before long sigh for another DARK HORSE OF ANOTHER COLOR. - When the name of English, of Connecticut, was fashed ever the wires democrats began to talk about "the honest old nutmeg farmer who would carry every State; just the man we want for the second place." When it was ascertained to be English of Indiana, no one seemed to know him.

THE SUN CIRCLE. - Occasionally one sees a circle around the sun which carries with it the colors of the rainbow. In 1832 there was a similar circle around the sun and it was follower by pestelance. The ring noticed yes terday was doubtless caused by the noxious vapors which arose from the Democratic Con-

BANE: FAILURE IN RENO.

Eastern.

CINCINNATI, June 24.

The Convention was called to order at 10:30 A. M. House crammed and weather sultry. Peckham of Albany, N. Y., took the platform and said that the New York delegation had received a letter from Tilden renouncing his candidacy for the Presidency. Mr. Peckham then presented the letter and said that New York had agreed on a candidate and his name was Randall of Penasylvania.

The roll of States was then called and on the second ballot the vete stood: Hancock 316, Bayard 113, Field 65s, Hendricks 31, Thurman 50, Tilden 61, Randall 129, Jewett 1. Parker 2. English 19. Wisconsin changed her vote to 20 for Hancock amid great excitement, confusion and cheering. New Jersey changed vote to 18 for Hancock. It is thought that Hancock will now be nominated on this ballot, his vote being 360. Numbers of Chairmen of delegations are on their chairs endeavoring to be heard. Great confusion all ever the house. Pennsylvania changed vote o Hancock. New York has changed 70 votes for Hancock.

Roll of States ordered called. Down to Georgia all votes solid for Hancock. Nomination of Hancock made unantmous.

When the majority of the votes was reached the excitement in the hall was tremendous, the delegates and spectators rising to their feet to cheer. The vote stood, Hancock 750, Hendricks 30, Bayard 2, Tilden 1.

John Kelly then mounted the platferm and addressed the Convention, saying that the nomination united the Democracy of New York and that all past differences will be for-

Wm. G. English, of Indiana, was placed in aomination for the Vice Presidency, and there being no epposition he was unanimous ly selected to take the second place on the ticket.

THE PLATFORM.

The platform reaffirms the platform adopted at St. Louis, and is in its main features on the line of the late Pennsylvania resolutions adopt ed at a convention of the party a few months age, and from the pen of Jere Black. There is a strong anti-Chinese plank, a resolution in praise of Tilden and Hendricks and an elequent arraignment of the Republican party for the frauds of 1876. The financial plank declares for gold and silver convertable into coin.

THE CHINESE PLANK. Following is the Chinese plank: "That in the Judgment of this Convention, the treaty existing between China and the United States should be amended; that Chinese immigration, excepting for purposes of commerce, trade and education, should be prohibited; that it is the duty of the government to preserve this land for our people and their pros perity, and to protect American labor from competition, degrading in its character and ruinous to its hopes of material and social ad-

A Reno Bank Failure.

RENO, June 24. This afternoon the Rene Savings Bank suspended for lack of funds to meet a draft sent by up by the Anglo-California Bank of San Francisco. When the announcement was made James H. Kinkead was completely prostrated by the shock and is now confined to his bed. Although the immediate cause of the suspension was the draft sent up from San Francisco the cause of a deficit arose from the fact that the institution has for some menths past been rather too accemmodating te customers and is now unable to make collections. M. C. Lake, the President, appears to have occupied a figure-head position and to have been entirely ignorant of all mat ters concerning the business of the bank, everything having been run by its manager. Lake is said to have known nothing of the failure until after the bank's doors were closed Its capital stock was nominally $100,000. M. C. Like, President; L. L. Crockett (the present State Tressurer), Vice President, and James H. Kinkead, Manager. It is thought that its assets will be amply sufficient to meet its obligations, and in a few weeks business will be resumed.

California.

The Bourbons at the Bay.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24. On receipt of news of the nomination of Hancock and English, the Democrats fired a salute of one hundred guns.

The leading men of the party assembled at headquarters and much gratification was expressed that the nominees would be better than any others to harmonize the conflicting interests especially in New York which is new claimed for Democrats.

Mow the Democrats Like it. Interviews with leading democrats of this city, and dispatches from all parts of the Paeife coast, indicate that the memination of Haucock although unexpected is regarded as izing the conflicting interests of the party. Thurman would have been more popular in California; and many express disappointment that Tilden was not chesen, and some of the ultra southern democrata object to Hancock en account mainly of his connection with the Suratt business but on the whole the nomination gives great satisfaction. Republicans are disposed to admit that the ticket is a strong one The Examiner endorses it and prophesies his election. Bulletin considers it the strongest nomination the democrats could have made. The Post claims that the democrats have blundered and have eventually abandened the cry of fraud and endorsed the action of the electoral commission.

DECAY OF THE TEETH

Arise from various causes, but principally it may be attributed to early neglect or the indiscrimate use of tooh powders and pastes, which give a momentary whiteness to the teeth while they corrode the enamel. The timely use of that delicate aromatid toothwash, Fragrant SOZODONT, will speedily arrest the progress of decay, harden the gams, and impart a delightful fragrance to the breath. It removes those ravages which people sustain in their teeth from the use of sweet and acid articles.
